1

Admitting your intuition is there and ready for you to use.

Take a moment to sit, feel and allow yourself to be in that moment. This is pure and simply what we call tuning into your intuition, and we all have it, including you.

A tool is only useful if we know it is there for us. We have all experienced our “gut feelings” at some point in our lives, giving us direction about a decision or a situation.

When we see how trusting our “gut feeling” is to our benefit it's easy and fun to develop our intuition.

2

Build a relationship with the Universe, Spirit, God or whatever name you choose to give a source greater than yourself.

All around you is energy, it surrounds us all and makes up everything in this universe. You, being a part of this universe, can tune into that energy. Remember, everything is connected.

We don't do this gig alone and building a trusting relationship with Spirit energy enhances your intuition and strengthens trusting yourself as you develop.

3

When you get an intuitive lead, go with it!

Perhaps, when you are traveling somewhere, you get a lead to go to the right at a particular street (illogical to you at this time); this is a place where you would normally or habitually turn left.

Follow it because it could lead you to a surprise you never realized was there, maybe a hidden park, or the right store you had been looking for or (without knowing) you could be guided away from something else that was not meant for you.

Know the difference between your intuitive guidance and your ego.

T. St Croi

This is slightly trickier than you think, knowing the various parts which make up you and distinguishing between them. The Ego will go with “I want it and I want it now, my way” like a goblin with an insatiable appetite.

Sometimes obvious and other times subtle. Ego tends to give ideas, but they usually lack inspiration and will not come back to you again.

Your intuition will have inspiration with it and will keep popping back into your mind until you acknowledge it.

Intuition will give you repetitive reminders that you're on the right path. Perhaps you want to pursue a new hobby but are hesitant at what others might think of it. Your intuition will send signs through TV shows, music, random conversations and your dreams to give you guidance. Intuition feels good, supportive and will fuel you to take appropriate action.

Discerning if the Ego or intuition is speaking to you at specific times is something you will be asked to work on while developing your intuition. With a bit of guidance, I am sure you can begin to tell them apart and know when something is ego driven or intuition from source.

5

Work with your strongest sense today.

Tracy St. Croi

We have four non-physical senses, known as clairs:

- CLAIRVOYANCE: WHERE WE SEE SYMBOLS AND IMAGERY ON OUR INNER MOVIE SCREEN.
- CLAIRAUDIENT: WHEN WE HEAR GUIDANCE.
- CLAIRSENTIENT: ALLOWS US TO FEEL EMOTIONS.
- CLAIRCOGNISCENT: WHERE WE KNOW INFORMATION THAT WE HAVE NO LOGICAL WAY OF HAVING ACCESS TO.

Our intuition is a muscle; the more we train it the stronger it gets. As we develop, one sense can be stronger than the other at times.

Know sometimes you're going to be thrown off your beam.

T. St Croi

You are not God so don't fret when you misinterpret your intuition now and again. To err is human, allow yourself space to be wrong from time to time. It's really ok, trial and error are how we gain experience and experience is wisdom.

Perhaps you were not meant to know the answer (for whatever reason). Our universe moves and changes quickly and so do possibilities and outcomes.

When you relax, breathe & have a bit of fun with your development; your guidance comes easily in amazing ways.

Try out different tools to use like Tarot or Oracle cards and experiment with what you connect to. We have to try a few pairs of pants on before we find ones that fit just right. This is the same with the various tools and methods in intuition development.

You can always ask for confirmation from your Spirit team (allow time for replies and listen to the reply); you will receive guidance from them. It could be as obvious as a billboard saying “yes” or a subtle lyric in a song you hear. Remember to have fun, enjoy and laugh on this wonderful journey.

If you want to learn a skill set you go to the experts in the field and study with them.

T. StCroi

My first class to develop my intuition was over 1 year long and I was put to the test many times to build my trust and confidence in my intuition. That was time and money well spent to develop my intuition and discover skills I didn't even know I had.
